(N. B.—The game won by Norfolk from Portsmouth, with Pitcher Paige working for Norfolk, as well as the one won by Norfolk from Danville on Thursday, has been deducted from Norfolk's "won" column and corresponding deductions made from the "lost" column of Portsmouth and Danville. The result is that Norfolk's standing is cut down from 581 to 573. The same reason exists for deducting one game from Norfolk as the other.)

Richmond lost to Roanoke yesterday through the effectiveness of Pitcher Willis and the inability of the locals to duplicate bingles, and through a batting rally by the visitors in the eighth inning, when they bunched four hits, scoring three runs. The Colts were utterly unable to solve Willis' delivery, and never came near scoring, save in the fifth inning, when Warren singled and Willis walked two left-handed batters. Warren was caught at the plate by a beautiful throw by Brodie from center-field.

Willis was in brilliant form, working the spitball frequently and effectively. He had speed, curves and good control, and held his position well. Ten Colts were fanned by the eloquent twister, while Hobbs struck out six Magicians. Hobbs was effective until the eighth inning, allowing but three scattered hits in the preceding seven innings, and those in the first, second and third. In the disastrous eighth, however, the Roanokers landed on his delivery for four successive singles, which earned two runs. The third runner crossed on Cowan's wide throw to catch Reynolds at second.

It is interesting to note that on Willis' last appearance here that on the easiest proposition the Colts have tackled, and they made the season's batting record off his delivery, landing on him for eighteen hits for a total of twenty-nine bases, netting thirteen runs.

The clever second-bagman quickly judged the hit, and almost two feet into the air. When he landed on terra firma he had the ball in his mitt, and was greatly applauded. Aside from this, the brilliant fielding of Warren at 2d base and several notable plays by Reese were the only features in the fielding line. Warren's play had been rather disappointing during the week, but he started yesterday. In the fourth he snatched Reynolds's bounder on a dead run and held him out at first, and duplicated the performance in the very next inning on a drive by Hessler. Only the fastest sort of work could have prevented these drives being recorded as hits. In the sixth inning Reese made a beautiful stop at first, and a beautiful throw after his watermelon feast of the day before, and when his friends went forward mond's fielding was sharp and clean. Carroll dropped a thrown ball at first, but it cost nothing, and in the awful eighth, after two men had scored, Cowan permitted another to cross by a high throw to second.

Richmond did not get a hit until the fourth, when Titman broke the ice with a clean two-bagger to left, after one hand was out. He took third on a wild pitch, but Willis studied and fanned Wallace and retired Sieble at first on an easy one to pitcher. In the fifth Warren led off with a single to left and stole. Cowan struck out and Carroll and Hobbs were both walked, Willis finding it hard to locate the plate in pitching to a left-hander. Heffron ambled up and the crowd expected another of the timely hits that he has lately been contributing. He smashed a fly to centre, and Brodie by a beautiful throw to catcher caught Warren at the plate. A fast runner might have scored, but the other hit came in the seventh. After Willis had struck out Sieble and Warren, Cowan rapped a clean double to left and took third on a wild pitch, but Carroll was out, short to first, retiring the side.

Roanoke got a scratch hit in the first and again in the second inning off Hobbs, but neither was productive. In the third Hessler rapped a clean single to left. Willis had already struck out, and Hobbs fanned Eustace, and Warren threw Brodie out at first.

After that, for four innings, the Magicians did not touch Hobbs, until he unexpectedly came in the eighth. Cooper led off with a fly to Reese, Willis hit safe to left, just inside the base line, but Hessler rapped one to Reese and forced Willis at second. Hessler evened up his mishap by stealing second. Eustace's safe drive placed Cooper on third, and Eustace stole second. Then Brodie drove a hot one at Hobbs, which the big pitcher partially stopped and deflected to Reese, who got the ball and threw to first, but to late to beat the runner. Hessler and Eustace crossing the plate, and Brodie going down on the throw-in, Reynolds beat out a bounder and Brodie crossed when Cowan threw high to catch Reynolds at second. After that the game was a mere formality, and three more were more than sufficient.

Double Game for To-Day.

The two teams play a double-header to-day, the first game being called promptly at 2:30, and the second upon conclusion of the first. Long and Reveille will probably work for the locals, while Hessler and Verrill for the visitors. Two pretty contests are in prospect. Empire Liebrich, whose work has been highly satisfactory here, will handle the indicator and keep the same good order that was maintained yesterday. The score of yesterday's game follows:

NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE PLANS

Six North Carolina Cities Being Organized by "King" Kelly.

RALEIGH, N. C., September 6.—There is a possibility that Raleigh will be in a six-city baseball league for North Carolina next season, the other towns interested being Charlotte, Salisbury, Winston-Salem, Greensboro and Durham. At least, Geo. W. Kelly, known in baseball circles as "King Kelly," has secured the franchise for Raleigh. There will be a public meeting of those interested in baseball here some evening next week to take action. E. C. Landgraf, of Potteryville, Pa., has been here a day or two working up interest in the matter.

TRUCKERS SHAKE THEIR HOODOOS

Vail's Splendid Work in Box and Their Hitting Enable Them to Win.

TEAM HAS HEAVY HITTERS

Portsmouth Wins First Game Since One in Richmond Nearly a Month Ago.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

PORTSMOUTH, VA., September 6.—In the Portsmouth-Lynchburg game Vail had the Champions guessing and the Truckers won out by a score of 6 to 1. Portsmouth caught on to Kline's head-on in the first and fourth innings and hit him hard. He did better in the last innings.

Manager Clark has signed Third-Baseman McMahon, formerly of Norfolk, and he played in to-day's game. McMahon was leading the league in hitting, with an average of over .400 when he left Norfolk early in the season. With Cook, McMahon and Sullivan, the Truckers now have three of the best hitters in the league, while Vail and Carter are both showing up well in the box now, and these, with Leonard and Loos, form a strong quartet which should insure Portsmouth some victories. To-day's victory was the second since Clark took charge of the team, the last game won being from Richmond on August 19th.

Vail was in superb form this afternoon, holding the Lynchburgers to three scattered hits, one a two-bagger by Hooker. He allowed few passes and fielded his position well.

Kline allowed but eight hits, but these were bunched in two innings and enabled the Truckers to win easily. The score follows:

DANVILLE TIES SECOND CONTEST

In a Slow, Seven-Inning Game Each Manages to Score Twice.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, VA., September 6.—The race for the pennant is hot. Norfolk and Danville to-day tied up in a seven-inning game, called on account of darkness, with the score of 2 to 2. Vail's wildness lost his game, though he allowed few hits.

The crew continues to get over the plate by clever base-running. Norfolk's hard work was fast, and Danville was frequently cut out of singles by good work Jordan was given excellent support and did well in the pinches. The score:

RAILROADERS WIN FROM COMMERCIALS

Graves, O. R. T. Pitcher, Kept Hits Better Scattered Than Opponent.

THE O. R. T. OPERATORS OF THE CHEAPPEAKES AND OHIO RAILWAY TURNED THE TIDE ON THE COMMERCIAL TELEGRAPHERS OF THIS CITY YESTERDAY AFTERNOON AT BYRD PARK IN A CLOSELY PLAYED AND INTERESTING GAME OF BALL.

Graves, who was on the firing line for the Railroaders, kept his hits well scattered, and had the better of the argument throughout the game, while Edwards, for the Commercial men, showed up well in the five innings he pitched. His arm not being in condition, he was relieved by Challenger, a southpaw, who hit two men and walked another, filling the bases, which, together with two timely hits and an error by Norvell, gave the visitors three runs in the sixth. Challenger then settled down and held his own. The feature of the game was the all-round playing of both teams. Following is the box score:

SKATER FOULED BY CONTESTANT

Young Figg Protests Award in One-Mile Skating Race.

A large crowd was at the Idlewood skating rink last night to see the first of two events being on the bill. The first was a twenty-100 yard race between teams under Frazier and Hancock. The youngsters started off nicely, and were well balanced, keeping well together the entire distance. On the final three laps Frazier and Hancock fought it out for the prize, Hancock winning out by a close margin. Time, 6:07.

The second event was a one-mile race between Moore, Harley, Figg and Pollard. Moore fell and was out on the third lap. Figg out on sixth round, leaving Harley and Pollard to fight it out. Harley took the lead from Pollard on the seventh lap and gradually widened the gap between himself and his opponent, winning out by about half a lap, the time being 3:15.

Figg entered a protest on the race, claiming that Pollard fouled him. In turning one of the ends Pollard pulled one of the flag poles directly across the floor in front of Figg. Pollard, of course, finished second.
